

Edmund J. Sikorski, Jr., J.D., Advisor

Mr. Sikorski obtained his certification as a Surgical Technician in the summer of 1963 and worked as a Surgical Technician at Grace Central Hospital in Detroit, MI and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, MI through his junior year in college. He transferred to the University of Tennessee for completion of his undergraduate degree (B.A. 1966) and first year of law school. He obtained a Certificate in International Law Studies from City of London College, London, England, 1966. He then transferred to the University of Detroit for completion of his junior and senior year of law school (J.D. 1969). Mr. Sikorski worked in the machine tool industry after his senior year and throughout undergraduate school, until the completion of law school.

Mr. Sikorski's professional practice concentrated in the areas of corporate, business, real estate, finance, estate planning documentation, and tax (with special emphasis in the audit and collection division practice). The Michigan Bar Section affiliations are in the area of corporate finance, real estate, and tax. He practiced in the law governing interscholastic athletics and was General Counsel to the Michigan High School Athletic Association, LLC, since its privatization, from 1972 through 2009.

Representative clients have included condominium and commercial real estate developers, marina operators, estate planners, athletic associations, small businesses, insurance and annuity marketing organizations, foundations, coal mining companies and trucking industry related service and leasing operations.

Joseph A. Moretti, Advisor

Having operated several successful businesses, Mr. Moretti moved to South Florida in 1996 and started Moretti Yachts, LLC, an international yacht brokerage business. The business is based in Fort Lauderdale, Florida and has a worldwide customer base. Today Moretti Yachts controls over $25 million in exclusive listings for sale worldwide. Mr. Moretti also has many years of experience at staging events which include motor racing, concert events and large scale catering at corporate sporting venues; all which have been highly influential in his vision of what can be done for the Mega – Super yacht events. The level of attention necessary to accommodate the elite in their vessels is instilled in the ability of Mr. Moretti.

In addition, Mr. Moretti is a founding partner and chairman of the board of Integrated Green Technologies, LLC. The Company (IGT) is an industrial tools, machinery & equipment manufacturer, including consumable supplies & materials; a distributor of heavy-duty blasting equipment and "green" environmentally safe mobile powder coating systems. The Company's objective is to capitalize in the manufacturing and infrastructure restoration markets utilizing proprietary powders and technologies to produce unique powder coatings, blasting materials, tools and services. The Company has developed a proprietary (patent pending) mobile powder coating system capable of performing a process known as electrostatic thermal spray powder coating. The process allows the application of powder coating materials in the field without the need for an electrostatic oven.

Mr. Gerald C. Parker, Advisor

Mr. Parker has over 30 years experience in the development, funding and management of successful organizations. Along with his associates, he has raised over $300 million for a number of start-up companies. In the 1970's, Mr. Parker founded Credit Information Systems, which was later sold to Equifax in 1979. Mr. Parker was one of the founders of Inktomi, a publicly traded high technology company that develops scalable network applications and traffic servers. At its peak, Inktomi's valuation reached $25 billion. Mr. Parker was also the founder of LiquidGolf, one of the Internet's most successful online golf product retailers, Consortio and AmericanManufactures.com. He has also served as the Chairman of Investment Management America, a merchant bank specializing in investment capital, mergers and acquisitions.